

Letter of Recommendation

April 21, 2025

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Valentina, who stepped into the role of Marketing Director at Environmental Products and Accessories in Hixson, TN, during my maternity leave. I had the pleasure of training her in the weeks leading up to my departure, and I was immediately impressed by her ability to learn quickly, ask insightful questions, and contribute valuable ideas from the start.

Valentina demonstrated an exceptional grasp of our brand, marketing strategy, and customer base in a very short amount of time. She approached every task with a positive attitude and a strong sense of initiative. Whether it was managing our digital campaigns, refining content strategies, or coordinating with external vendors, she handled each responsibility with professionalism and creativity.

What stood out most during our time working together was her collaborative spirit and strong communication skills. She brought fresh perspectives while still honoring the systems and standards already in place, which made for a seamless transition for the entire team. It gave me peace of mind knowing the department was in such capable hands.

I confidently recommend Valentina for any leadership or marketing position she pursues in the future. She is a dedicated, talented professional who will be a tremendous asset to any team.

Please feel free to contact me directly if you have any questions.

Best regards,
