To Whom It May Concern,

I'm happy to write this reference for Valentina ("Tina"), who interned with our marketing analytics team at Marsh McLennan Agency. During her time here, Tina showed solid technical skills, a sharp analytical mind, and a real eagerness to learn.

With her background in data science and hands-on experience with Python and SQL, Tina quickly got up to speed and contributed to important projects. She's good at cleaning data, analyzing relationships, and building models. She also has a knack for explaining complex data in a way that's easy to understand. Tina's positive attitude and willingness to jump in made her a great fit for our team, and she embraced our culture of working together and focusing on results.

Throughout her internship, Tina made good progress in turning data into useful insights and tailoring her presentations to different audiences. She's also been gaining confidence in coding and troubleshooting on her own, which will help her as she moves forward. Tina is eager to keep improving and has shown she can connect her work to bigger company goals.

She's still working on managing her time and priorities better, but she's thoughtful about handling her workload and finding solutions when she needs help. With her skills and enthusiasm, I believe Tina will do well in whatever she chooses to do next.

I'm confident Tina will be a great addition to any team, and I'm happy to support her as she looks for new opportunities. Please feel free to reach out if you want to know more.

Best,
